temperatures for 6 nights so far! ALSO TOP WORK

ANCHORS AWAY - Squatted in 2016 for 8 months and again in 2017 when it lasted over a year. The Blue Anchor pub in Bromley-by-Bow was finally reclaimed by the owners as they prepare the area for mass redevelopment. The squatters moved on after losing in court, leaving it generously open for curious skippers and party people to use in their absence.

IT'S A MADHOUSE The Manchester Kru have been busy over winter with a number of squats in the city. Market street squat was opened to protest the councils lack of a winter homelessness plan and demand an end to deaths on the streets by rough sleeping. And in their 2nd illegal eviction in a month, things broke into the madhouse squat, dragged people from their beds, punched and beat them.
When the cops turned up they took they bailiffs side despite them not having a single piece of paper between them.
And to top it off the pigs threatened to arrest the squatters & not allow them to take their stuff. ACAB one brave, young squirrel held out for 7 hours before being removed. But the struggle is not over...

Since eviction protests have continued. The council has built a wall and paid security to surround the garden 24/7. A wall so great that even Donald Trump came to visit.

FUCK THE DFLA - Far right extremists: please put yours head back in your ass.
13 October 2018, the sun shines over London, but with all this heat the shit that sits around thinks twice as more, as a matter of fact a lot of fascist scum flooded in the city center, DFLA. A "poc test against returning jihadists", and there it was. Freedom of Speech crying blood. Every single line that one of them talks, it cries blood, it feels PAIN. However a counter-protest held by numerous group of activist and no, or should we call them human beings with a conscious, manage to stop their march, and fuck them off in the meantime. The enforcers of the law made themselves the criers of let escalate the protest into a riot.
The counter protest ended up in Waterloo bridge. we can just hope that the people who were watching went home with a shadow doubt. The stink dissipated for most, but I can still smell it.
